Event 1: Live Broadcast: Safe, Healthy and Productive Workplaces: Learning from Research and Practice, June 1-3, 2017

Join us at Saint Mary's University to watch a live broadcast of keynote and plenary speakers of the Safe, Healthy and Productive Workplaces conference and participate in local discussion. This live broadcast has been organized in collaboration with Aware NS – The Nova Scotia Health and Community Services Safety Association, and the CN Centre for Occupational Health and Safety. As this is a special invitation from both these organizations you are eligible for Member Rates.

Topics include:

- Addressing workplace stressors contributing to poor health, decreased productivity, and prolonged work absence
- Emotional Intelligence: How can we improve workplace culture and resilience?
- How to build better outcomes for the return to work conversation for healthcare providers and employers?
- Avoiding work loss from musculoskeletal problems – a toolkit for employers
- Accommodating employees with nonvisible disabilities in the workplace: from research to practice

Event 2: 6th Annual Health Psychology (OHP) Summer Institute Navigating Healthy Workplaces: Risks, Supports, and Challenges in Moving Forward

Saint Mary's University, Halifax July 17-20th 2017

The OHP Summer Institute is an interactive and intensive 3-day conference in which international experts in occupational health present on issues related to worker health and safety. Based on input from our community partners and researchers, we have developed a program that covers topics such as bullying, resilience, assessing risk and vulnerabilities, PTSD, chronic pain, and engaging a healthy and productive workplace.

This event brings together academics and practitioners to discuss critical issues involving the well-being and effectiveness of workers and organizations. As an added bonus, they are hosting the 6th Psychologically Healthy Workplace Awards Recognition Program in conjunction with the OHP-SI.

Who should attend?

- Health & Safety Managers
- Wellness Coordinators
- Occupational health nurses and physicians
- Human resources, benefits, and training managers
- Union representatives
- Faculty and graduate students studying or interested in OHP
- Workers' compensation consultants
