

Good Morning:

Today the Nursing Homes of Nova Scotia Association is releasing our position paper Enough Talk. This is a call to action for an investment in long term care which is long overdue.

We are the experts. We come to work everyday with the care and safety of our residents as our first priority, but we're working in an extremely challenging environment. Nursing home providers should be active participants in decisions and enabling positive changes for our sector.

Long term care has been studied over and over again, and with two more quality reviews on the horizon, our position statement is Enough Talk, we are calling for action.

We anticipate extensive coverage on this paper over the coming days. We encourage you to click onto the link below and take the time to read it through.

Thanks
Michele
